D'OLIER IS GIVEN FREE HAND TO RUSH PLAN FOR BIG FAIR

Selection of War Veteran as Head of Exposition, Body Praised Generously

TO SERVE WITHOUT PAY; OLD DIRECTORS REMAIN

New Exposition Chief Is Expected Home August 14 to Take Full Charge

Directors of the Sesqui-Centennial Association, members of City Council and officers and men of the American Legion united today in praise of the selection of Colonel Franklin D'Olier as president of the association, and pledged themselves to get back of him in his efforts to make the fair a success.

Nothing but commendation was heard for the choice made by the directors of the association. Every preparation has been made to give Colonel D'Olier full scope for his organizing ability.

Colonel D'Olier is in New Hampshire and will not return until August 14. It is expected that present headquarters will be given up in every detail of fair management. The old directors will remain, it was made known to-day.

Will Not Draw Salary

It was made known also, though unofficially, that Colonel D'Olier would serve without salary. There will be no "director general," according to present plans, Colonel D'Olier keeping the supreme command in his own hands.

John Frederick Lewis, returned today to comment on finances. It is understood he will submit a financing plan similar to that used in the Centennial, selling bonds for the purpose. The plan will have no value unless the fair makes money.

Money Robins, of the Steering Committee which nominated Colonel D'Olier, said:

"The election of Colonel D'Olier is a good omen for the future. Those who have heretofore given their best efforts to the exposition will not remit those efforts because of the advent of a new president. They will redouble them."

Colonel D'Olier, owing to his military experience, will be able to surround himself in the executive department with all the executive and enthusiastic youth which will be available without losing the benefit of the experience of the older men who have hitherto given so much attention to the fair.

Made Record in France

"What Colonel D'Olier did in France is the best evidence of his executive ability. It was his special business to conserve for the Government all the odds and ends that were thrown away, and to turn those odds and ends into useful material."

"This meant that he was in executive control of dozens of different industries."

"STOLEN" CITY AUTO FOUND IN MUNICIPAL REPAIR SHOP

Suspended Fire Marshal Reports Mysterious Disappearance of Police

The mysterious disappearance of a city-owned car assigned to Assistant Fire Marshal McHenry is a mystery no longer.

McHenry, under suspension as a result of charges he was driving while intoxicated last Saturday, drove to City Hall yesterday to turn over his badge and keys to Fire Marshal Elliott.

A suspended official parked the car at Fifteenth and Filbert streets and called at Mr. Elliott's office. Then he went back to the parking place—but the car was gone.

McHenry rushed back to City Hall and reported the supposed theft to the Detective Bureau. Officers were sent out and detectives hunted for the missing auto without success.

The Marshal Elliott today explained that he ordered the machine removed to the city repair shops at Thirty-third street and Girard avenue while McHenry was in his office. He did not mention that little detail to his suspended assistant, hence the mystery.

Director Corley today received a copy of the proceedings at which McHenry was fined and immediately sent him to the city jail. McHenry's release will not be discussed, or be fined.

FAIR FANS THRILL AT REGATTA

NAB DR. PANCOAST IN ROW OVER POLE

Germentown Physician Charged After Arrest for Halting Work of Telegraph Men

SAYS IT WAS "ALL MISTAKE"

Dr. Charles S. Pancoast, owner of a stately home at Greene and Harvey streets, Germentown, was arrested today as he defied workmen to place an electric light pole in front of his property.

The physician, who thought the pole would deface some seventy-five-year-old maple trees in front of his home, was taken to the Germentown police station. Magistrate Lindell discharged him later when he explained "it was all a mistake."

Dr. Pancoast and his sister, Miss Laura Pancoast, formed a defense force of two yesterday when workmen of the Philadelphia Electric Company arrived with a long pole.

Victorious in First Brush

Miss Pancoast had the first brush with the "enemy" and was victorious. A sergeant and a patrolman argued and threatened, the foreman of the workers coaxed and pleaded, but Miss Pancoast would not move from the site chosen for the pole.

Finally the sergeant called a patrol wagon. A crowd of men and women had gathered and a line of motorists drew up on Greene street to witness the climax.

The sunlight was fading when the patrol wagon was heard. Miss Pancoast smiled and retreated into her home. It was too dark for the workmen to proceed. Satisfied to let the pole stand alone, the police turned the patrol wagon and chugged back to the station house.

Dr. Pancoast decided to hold the fort this morning. He ate a hurried breakfast and went out to the sidewalk. The workmen were ahead of him and were digging a hole.

When he refused Smith placed him under arrest and walked him to the police station. There it was explained that the company had a right to plant a pole on the sidewalk and that it was the company's intention to remove several other poles on the opposite side of the street.

This explanation mollified the doctor, who was willing to call off hostilities when the magistrate arrived for the morning hearings.

Dr. Pancoast's home formerly was the residence of Dr. Alexander du Pont and also was once the headquarters of the Colonial Club.

LONDON'S SUNDAY LAWS MAY AFFECT FAIR RULES

British Leniency Affects Well for Open Sabbath in Sesqui-Centennial

A recent action of the London County Council allowing Sunday games in public parks there, Mayor Moore said today, may have some influence on the Sunday question in connection with the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition.

"Apparently, a peaceful revolution affecting Sunday games has taken place in Great Britain," the Mayor stated.

"After centuries of opposition on the part of those who desire a closed Sunday, the London County Council has decided in favor of reasonable Sunday sports."

Mr. Moore's statement continued: "The Mayor commented on the statement made by John Wammanaker, here, who has always been strong for Sabbath observance, commented favorably on a reasonable Sunday amusement program for the Sesqui-Centennial. A Sunday question was bound to arise in connection with the Sesqui-Centennial, and that the action of the London County Council might have some bearing upon it."

Lenroot Blocks Tariff Vote Plans in Senate

Washington, Aug. 3.—(By A. P.)—Plans of Republican and Democratic leaders for a final vote on the tariff bill this month were upset, at least temporarily, today by Senator Lenroot.

Senator Lenroot said he was unwilling to consent to a unanimous consent agreement under which it would be possible for highly important changes in the bill, affecting the very policy of the National Government, to be voted upon without debate.

SLEEPY BURGLAR TRAPPED BY GIRL

Youth Found Slumbering in Sixteenth Street House He Had Robbed

Because Joseph McManus, nineteen years old, of 1255 North Burns street, slept this morning after he had robbed the home of Joseph Cohen, 1520 North Sixteenth street, he was "caught with the goods"—the "goods" including several bottles of Hennessy Three Star and Black and White.

Mr. Cohen has his family are in the Adirondacks, and the house on Sixteenth street closed. Mr. Cohen and his oldest daughter, who has been living in the city but not at home.

This morning Miss Cohen went to the house, which had been closed when the family left, and was alarmed to find that a rear door was open.

Miss Cohen telephoned to the police. It was broad daylight—9:30 o'clock—but she was taking no chances on the burglar who had visited the place still being there.

Motorcycle Patrolman Coleman and Richardson sped over to the house and entered by the open window.

As soon as they struck a light in the dining room they found three suitcases fully packed and ready to be taken out. They were filled with silverware, jewelry and choice selections from Mr. Cohen's private stock. The contents of the three suitcases later was valued at about $4000 by the owner.

Patrick Newall, an Electrical Bureau lineman, was at the top of a pole adjusting wires when he noticed the boy in the road. Blood was flowing from his nose. There were no cuts or bruises on his head or body and his bicycle was unharmed.

Physicians believe the boy may be subject to fainting spells and that he fell off his wheel during an attack.

MISS SCOTT BUYS THE WHIP

Champion Hackney Mare to Arrive Here Late Today

"The Whip," champion hackney mare, is now the property of Miss Jean Browne Scott, daughter of John R. K. Scott, Cynwold, and will again be exhibited in all the chief horse shows along the Atlantic coast. The famous hackney is due to arrive at Miss Scott's "Glenhead Farm" late today.

"The Whip" is the mare with which Miss Constance Vaclavin, now Mrs. William Hamilton, established a record of thirteen consecutive wins and fifty States Appurters' stakes, was yesterday.

About a year ago Miss Vaclavin, who is the daughter of Samuel P. Vaclavin, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, sold the mare to J. L. Bushnell, of Springfield, O., who did not meet with as much success before the judges as had Miss Vaclavin. It was from Mr. Bushnell that Miss Scott purchased her.

ERROR AIDS CARDS TO LEAD ON PHILS

Fumble by Smith in Fourth Lets in Pair of Alien Markers Here

Lee Meadows ran into a streak of hard luck when he attempted to turn back the Cardinals at the Phils' ball park this afternoon.

The Cards pushed a run over the top in the second inning because Fournier's hit took an unexpected hop away from Meadows' glove.

Again in the fourth inning the bespectacled hurler would have set his opponents down without a run in spite of the fact that he filled the bases if Jimmy Smith had not taken that inopportune moment to kick Haines' in-field roller all over the lot.

Two runs scored on that misplay and allowed the visitors to lead by a 3 to 0 count at the end of the fourth inning.

The Phils were unable to solve Jess Haines' slants and made only one in-field hit in the four frames.

They took a temporary ascension in the fourth inning, walking Walker and Fournier, but a sensational stop and throw by Toporcer prevented local hopes from denting the platter.

Details of the Game

FIRST—Flack lined to Walker; Rapp tossed out Stock; Jack Smith grounded to Toporcer. No run.

Rapp grounded to Stock; J. Smith was safe on Stock's wide throw; Williams popped to Hornsby; J. Smith continued on Page Nineteen, Column Three

UNCONSCIOUS BOY IS FOUND IN STREET

Whisper Name is Forest Chestman When Revived

A fifteen-year-old boy with red hair and a profusion of freckles was found unconscious on a sidewalk on the corner of Chestnut and Rising Sun avenue this afternoon.

At the Frankford Hospital the boy, one of a family of five, was identified as Forest Chestman, son of Mrs. Chestman, 1234 Chestnut street. The nurse could not get his address.

Patrick Newall, an Electrical Bureau lineman, was at the top of a pole adjusting wires when he noticed the boy in the road. Blood was flowing from his nose. There were no cuts or bruises on his head or body and his bicycle was unharmed.

Physicians believe the boy may be subject to fainting spells and that he fell off his wheel during an attack.

MAGISTRATE ROBERTS HAS BUSY DAY AT AUTO ASSESSES

Seven persons were found guilty of various infringements of traffic ordinances and fined this afternoon at Magistrate Roberts' automobile assesses, held at Twentieth and Oxford streets.

H. Constantini, of 1012 Spruce street, was ordered to pay $13.50 for knocking over a motorcycle policeman notwithstanding the fact that Albert E. Peterson and Ezekiel Hunt, who said they were the oldest members of the Pennsylvania bar, spoke in his defense for more than a half hour.

LOCAL OARSMEN WIN JUNIOR HEATS IN BIG REGATTA

McIlvaine, Caton, Cunningham and Brehm Qualify for Final in Gig Race

HAYNES, OF NEW YORK, DISQUALIFIED IN SCULLS

Francis Finigan, of Malta, Makes Best Time in the Trial Events

Rumor Kelly and Hoover Will Row Exhibition

Rumors are rife around the boat houses on the Schuylkill that Jack Kelly, who won the world's single sculls championship at the Olympic games in 1920, and Walter Hoover, holder of the Philadelphia Challenge Cup and winner of the Diamond Sculls, would meet in an exhibition race Saturday afternoon as a feature of the fifteenth regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Neither Kelly nor Hoover nor any of the officials would deny or confirm the report. If such a race were held the banks of the Schuylkill would not hold the crowds that would flock to see it.

Charles McIlvaine, of Vesper, opened the Golden Jubilee National Regatta for Philadelphia on the Schuylkill auspiciously by capturing the first heat in the junior single gigs. The local lad had a good four lengths at the finish after taking things easy all the way from the start. He did not apparently extend himself at any time, finishing under wraps.

Francis Caton, of the Fairmount Club, was content with second place without making any fight for it. Clarence Ward, of New York, finished third and failed to qualify. McIlvaine and Caton will row in the final.

The winner finished in 8 minutes 23 1-5 seconds, fourteen seconds ahead of Caton in second place.

Johnny Cunningham, of the West Philadelphia Club, and John N. Brehm, of the Montrose B. C. Manayunk, where Jack Kelly got his start, finished one-two in the second heat, which means that this city will carry off all the honors in the final.

Cunningham and Brehm rowed less than a foot apart the last half mile, having the lead to themselves and figuring that there wasn't any use to extend themselves when they were certain to qualify. Adolph Wolf, Jr., member of the famous family that made Philadelphia Club, and John N. Brehm, of the Montrose B. C. Manayunk, where Jack Kelly got his start, finished one-two in the second heat, which means that this city will carry off all the honors in the final.

Lack of knowledge of the course proved costly to the Gatham sculler. Instead of going through the arch presented for him because of his position at the start, Haynes went through one to his left. The result was the forcing out of his course of one of the other scullers, causing a little confusion after the course came from under the trollier bridge.

Molloy was given the race, with J. Lehnart Engle, of the Undine B. C., second, a couple of lengths behind. The winner's time was 24 minutes 24 seconds.

Francis Finigan, of the Malta Boat Club, a newcomer, pulled a big surprise in capturing the second heat of the junior single sculls race, which shows how easily he rowed.

HEARTLESS AUTOIST GETS VERBAL LASHING IN COURT

Just because it was a mongrel dog his automobile struck Sunday night, Anthony Ramonino, 108 Pennsylvania street, Manayunk, didn't think it worth while to aid the suffering animal and left it to die.

Magistrate Dorn fined Ramonino $13.50, which didn't affect the prisoner nearly as much as the verbal lashing the magistrate gave him.

"You admit that you didn't know whether you hit a dog or a cat. It was your duty to stop and assist the injured animal you drove away and left the dog writhing in agony."

CORN WAS "WET"

Police Get Alcohol Cargo From Truck on Lancaster Pike

More than $3000 worth of alcohol was found by the Philadelphia police early today when they searched a motor truck on Lancaster pike in Wayne. The truck was ostensibly loaded with baskets of corn.

The suspicions of Patrolmen Jones and Lellon were aroused when they noticed the truck speeding along Lancaster avenue about 3:30 A. M. They ordered the driver to stop and the policemen searched the truck.

The driver, Ernesto Saglia, 1527 North Fifth street, and his helper, Charles J. Lovib, 2011 Eriting street, were taken before Magistrate Hunter at Wayne and turned over to Federal agents.

RAIL EXECUTIVES AND UNION LEADERS HALT PEACE MOVES

Both Parties to Controversy Awaiting Administration's Next Step

PRESIDENT IS STUDYING REPLY OF LABOR CHIEFS

Ten Thousand New Employees of Santa Fe Demand Seniority Rights

Chicago, Aug. 3.—There was a lull today in peace maneuvers in the railroad strike. Railroadmen were reticent and there was no forecast of where the next peace effort would originate.

Strike leaders turned their attention toward Washington, where President Harding had a telegram sent by the shopmen last night after their meeting here, suggesting that the union's proposals under condition of the settlement negotiations be recognized. Railroad executives were also awaiting news from the capital, after their acceptance of all the President's proposals, excepting that regarding restoration of seniority rights to strikers.

Railroad men noted the invitation of the Southern Railway to strike shopmen to negotiate for a settlement based on President Harding's plan, but made no comment.

At Dallas, Tex., the Texas division headquarters of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas announced that union men now on strike would be employed only as new men.

Ten thousand shopmen of the Santa Fe, who had formed an Association of New Employees, today telegraphed Chairman Hooper, of the United States Railroad Labor Board, demanding their rights be safeguarded in any settlement of the shopmen's strike. They are entitled, they say, to protection in the seniority rights acquired during the strike.

Union Chiefs Asked to Confer

E. J. Manton, of St. Louis, president of the Railway Telegraphers, has sent letters to the heads of the twelve railroad unions not on strike, requesting a meeting to discuss the growing tendency to involve their men in the shopmen's strike. It was learned here today, Mr. Manton's letter, it was learned, pointed out that the members of the twelve unions still at work had many problems in relation to the strike, and suggested the advisability of a conference of the twelve unions, and the leading heads of the four big brotherhoods, to consider strike developments and possible action.

Violence Reported

Violence was reported from six cities in many States during the night. Peace in the city of St. Louis was untroubled, the police reported. The assaults escaped. Witnesses told policemen that the four men accosted Johnson, asked him not to go to work and then attacked him.

Carl Stradley was killed during an exchange of shots at Van Buren, Ark., between guards in the Missouri Pacific and the strikers. The doctor reported that the man was wounded but will recover, physicians say.
